II. Basis for Jurisdiction

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction (limited power). Generally, only two types of cases can be heard in federal court: cases involving a federal question and cases involving diversity of citizenship of the parties. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, a case arising under the United States Constitution or federal laws or treaties is a federal question case. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a case in which a citizen of one State sues a citizen of another State or nation and the amount at stake is more than $75,000 is a diversity of citizenship case. In a diversity of citizenship case, no defendant may be a citizen of the same State as any plaintiff.

What is the basis for federal court jurisdiction? (check all that apply)

United States District Court

Plaintiff: Eugenia Song

Defendant: Central Intelligence Agency of the United States of America

I, Eugenia Song, sue the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) of the United States of America for unwanted participation in a secret program started by Columbia University professor Peter T. Coleman of the International Center for Cooperation and Conflict Resolution. The program is currently managed by an unknown manager in the military who may go by the name of Emily Hoch and who is employed by the RAND Corporation with offices in Arlington, Virginia and California.

The program is a psychological research program that was originally funded by Robert Henkel of Ascension Health in St. Louis, Missouri, who was a former supervisor in my capacity as a director in the corporate offices of the said litigated firm.

Plaintiff is contending that this program and the people who manage it have trespassed with their software, engaged in criminal abuse of my body, and conducted experiments which resulted in changed personalities and torture. Dr. Peter Coleman has been acting as if he is screenwriting for guest actors. He has hired temporary personnel in California who are voice-over actors for identity theft in this program. They are impersonating me in many circumstances. All the world's a stage.

I contend that the law broken is #440 Other Civil Rights in US Civil Statute. While not a tort claim, it is proximate and immediate and dangerous to me.

Demand: I request from the court control over my own CIA which is called personal by the Pentagon.

Respectfully,
